

QUEEN TWIXMAS

Have a Queen-style Happy Twixmas this year on our fabulous short break to help fill in those boring days between Christmas and the New Year.

This will be our second Queen Twixmas event - and last year we had a blast! It was a great celebration of Queen and the hotel was superb. The Twixmas event is a more 'intimate' gathering than the convention and everyone had loads of fun. So, once again, we've booked a mass of rooms, plus the main function suite, at the modern Village Hotel in Coventry for Wednesday 29th and Thursday 30th December 2010 for another 2-day Queen Party! There really is no better way to spend those days between Christmas and New Year and, by the Red Nose of Rudolph, we know you'll have a Santa's sack full of fun!

We start with the check-in at the hotel any time from 3pm on Wednesday, although if you choose to arrive earlier then you are welcome to use the hotel's superb indoor pool. The entertainment though begins that evening with the fabulous Stillyano and a disco running into the early hours. On Thursday the morning's free (to lie in, recover from any excesses of the night before, or to take advantage of the hotel's great leisure facilities) and in the afternoon we'll have various Queen activities – quiz, video footage, competitions etc... you know the score! In the evening we'll have another great party night, with karaoke and an all-Queen disco.

Finally we wend our way home on the Friday but you can have a lie-in first as we don't have to check out of the rooms until 11am.
